Okay. I'll be careful. One of them, but not both, left for about 3.5 hours. We've been cooling our heels and he just got back and of course, was the actual person who had to do the work, not the helper. The other guy was stranded here with nothing to do for the past 2 hours. The usual service.

Use your discretion! Be sure your cutting and pasting is accurate, though!

Sorry you got tied up. I know how it is.

Still with workmen at home. I'm coming back regardless to get the Autozone applications filed. It is open on my desk to the page and I only have to complete a few sections on the MPD app to get it submitted. Then the second app will not take long because it will be copy/paste. Having said that, when I get there, if one of the sections is too long on the second app, can I use my discretion in cutting some of the verbiage so I can hit send or would you still prefer to see any modifications which would then likely need to carry over to Monday? (And Harold and I have a 9:30 a.m. meeting with Carolyn Malone at 311.) I don't think any of the other sections are an issue because the shorter count was in the general section, not in the grant-specific sections, so it should not be an issue anyway. But just in case...
